THE OBNOXIOUS LAWS OF BLACK REPUBLI-CANISM.

On Friday evening last the Young Men's Domo cratic Union Club of the City of New York held an extremely animated and interesting meeting at their hall in Broome street.

After the usual routine of regular business, the committee appointed at the last regular meeting of the club to draught a series of resolutions expressing the sentiments of the club respecting the obnoxious bills passed by the New York legislature at their late session announced themselves ready to report, and Mr. Rose, their chairman, read the following preamble and resolutions, viz:

Whereas the legislature of the State of New York did at their late session pass certain enactments invading the rights of ourselves and of our fellow-citizens resident in the city of New York and three adjacent counties, and the city of New York and three adjacent counties, and did thereby transcend all just powers allotted to the said legislature by the constitution of our Commonwealth; and whereas they have by such measures reduced a well-regulated system of local government to the confusion of virtual anarchy, threatening to the property and lives of those whom, as law-givers, they were sworn to protect; and whereas an occasion so fraught with perfl not only to all our best interests, but even to our civil freedom, demands the prompt attention of every citizen, irrespective of party condition or degree: Be it, therefore,

"1. Resolved, That we, the members of the Young Men's Democratic Union Club of the city of New York, do hereby, in the name and presence of the community whereof we form a part, most selemnly and earnestly protest against this series of bold and daring usurpations. And hence—

nd hence—

2. Resolved, That in the so-called metropolitan police bill, passed at Albany April 14, 1857, we recognise a direct attack upon our municipal liberties; and, since that violence which assults one free community is violence to all, an assault upon the fetudamental principle of State and national sovereignty, as acknowledged by all our American constitutions. And—of the advoluses or the wit of either—th line, mere tea-ons in public rognery made easy. And, furthermore— "5. Resolved, That while in all the acts caumierated is disclosed a bitter and insidious reactionary plot against representative institutions—a linking desire to trample upon or ignore the first axiom of our national system, viz—that there shall be no legislation without repre-sentation—and an effort to annul the clear intent of our State constitution, carefully framed, with a view to de centralize power—other alarming features stand forth in bold relief, to wit: 1. A denial of the social compact. 2.

"3. Resteet, That in the excise bill and port-warden's

bold relief, to wit: 1. A denial of the social compact. 2. A distrust of the people. 3. Military menace; and, 4. General corruption by the offer of position and rewards to traitors. Therefore, finally—

"6. Resolved, That we, the sons of this mighty commune of New York, which is the 'epitome regni' of the Empire Commonwealth—the day star of American progress and civil freedom—being of the people and with the people, claiming all our original guarantied rights 'under a constitution which defines and fortifies our united greatness as a State'—do hereby pledge all that we are and have, together and as individuals, to the defence of those inalienable rights, in the first, in the second, and, if inationable rights, in the first, in the second, and, if needs be, in the last resort; and thus, before God and our country, in either case we are willing to abide."

We cheerfully give place to the above resolutions at the request of an esteemed correspondent in New York, who, in his letter enclosing them, says: "We, in the city of New York-as national a city as there is in the Union-wish our brethren of the South and West to understand our position, and, therefore, as an indication of our sentiments, we send for publica tion the above resolutions. Pass them into the colnms of the widely-circulated central orgen of the democracy, that all may read and appreciate our position." We fully appreciate the position of the indomitable democracy of the Empire City, and would advise them, as we would advise the democracy everywhere, under similarly trying circumstances, to look to the courts and the ballot-box for protection and redress.

HON. THOMAS RUFFIN.

From the spirit evinced at the primary county meetings, it would seem to be the intention of the democracy of the second congressional district of North Carolina to renominate Mr. Ruffin by acclamation. This flattering evidence of renewed confidence on the part of his constituents is alike due to his efficiency and fidelity as a representative and his unparty. At a democratic meeting held in Wayne county the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved. That the congressional record of the Hon iomas Ruffin stands out before his constituents without or blemish, and we would be unjust to our own convictions of duty, as well as insensible to every feeling of gratitude, did we not, following the example of our breth-ren in other counties, declare him to be our first and last and only choice as a candidate for Congress, and as such recommend him for nomination to the convention to a

From Baltimore to Cincinnati, from Cincinnati to St. Louis, throughout the entire railroad route from the Atlantic to the great metropolis of Missouri, to say nothing of the lateral roads, the most extensive arrangements are now making to give the utmost effect to the great railroad celebration which is to come off next week. "The festivities of the opening will be participated in by thousands of people from the East and the West, and the North and the South. The Chief Magistrate of the nation and the heads of the national departments, the civic authorities of several cities, the governors of a num ber of the States, and the directors and presidents of nu-merous railroads, together with other public-spirited gen-tlemen, have been invited, and most of them will probably be present. The citizens of Cincinnati and St. Louis, which cities are to be the place of the ceremonies, have made ample provision to accommodate the guests in a most satisfactory and agreeable manner. In Cincinnati the Enquirer says, meetings of the citizens were held, and it was agreed that business should be suspended on the 3d and 4th of June, and the inhabitants requested to decreate their houses; the fire companies and the military will purade, and the scholars of the public schools have a procession; carriages will be furnished to convey the greek throughout the city and environs and the citizens. guests throughout the city and environs, and the citizens

The guests will then return to their homes by any route they may prefer, as nearly all the roads in the United States have agreed to pass them free at any time before the 13th, and it is supposed this time will be extended to the 20th proxime."

Passports in Austria.—A correspondent residing at Frankfort-on-the-Main furnishes the following information, under date of May 2, concerning passports, which may be of interest to American travellers intending to visit Austria during the ensuing season :

visit Austria during the ensuing season:

"It is well known that passports are more closely examined at Frankfort than at any other point on any of the great thoroughfares of the continent. A Frankfort fell visa gives character to a passport for a great distance around, and particularly for the countries eastward of this place. A visa for Austria cannot be obtained of the Austrian legation here unless the passport has been already verified by the Austrian minister in Washington, London, or Paris, or, unless occasionally through courtey, when it has the visa of an American minister abroad. The Austrian legation takes no notice of a consular or commercial visa. Frequent instances occur in which travellers find great difficulty in entering Austria, and that difficulty will now be increased by the new passport system, which great difficulty in entering Austria, and that difficulty will now be increased by the new passport system, which makes it necessary that passports should be given up at the frontier. Travellers will have to enter by the principal routes. If their passports are not in order, they will not be permitted to pass the frontier."

How Lands covered by invalid pre-emptions are to be deals with.—It is held by the department that if an application to enter at private sale land embraced in an invalid pre-emption entry is not made until after the decision of the local land officers adverse to the pre-emption claim, such application can have no precedence; but, if the application was made before such decision, and the applicant has been denied the privilege of consummating his entry, by reason of the illegal pre-emption, and the fact be satisfactorily established, he will have the right to make the entry in preference to any subsequent applicant.

ARRIVAL OF GEN. WALKER AT NEW ORLEANS. Since our last issue the following telegraphic despatch was received from New Orleans:

NEW ORLEANS, May 27 .- The Empire City reached her NEW ORLEANS, May 27.—The Empire City reached her wharf at seven o'clock this evening. Some ten thousand people were present. Gen. Walker, accompanied by Col. Jacques, Mr. Pilcher, and Mr. Turner, agent of the associated press, proceeded in a carriage to the St. Charles Hotel, where Gen. Walker addressed the crowd, expressing thanks for the reception he met with, recognising American love of liberty in the masses and assuring them

The greatest excitement exists in the city. The St. Charles is besieged by thousands. General Walker addressed them twice. He says he surrendered because Captain Davis signified his intention of scizing the schooner Granada, which held his reserve. Walker was kept a prisoner by the United States commodore at Panama, notwithstanding the terms of the capitulation, which allowed him and his officers to retain their side arms and

LOCAL NEWS.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE .- It will be recollected by the public that the city corporation recently passed an act providing for the registration of voters. This law gave rise to considerable discussion among the voters in the different wards. In order to set the matter right before the day of the election, a committee of the citizens of the Second Ward addressed to the mayor a letter on this subject, which was referred to the corporation attorney, Mr. Carlisle, who has promptly replied that no citizen who is otherwise entitled to vote can be disfranchised on account faltering devotion to the principles of the democratic of an omission to enrol his name by the assessor, nor on account of the failure of the citizen to apprize the cor-poration of a change of his residence. We cut the folowing passage from the letter of the corporati

"It cannot be denied that the right to vote for mem-bers of the corporation must be entirely independent of the will of the corporation; otherwise the present incum-bents may prescribe such terms and conditions as will in-sure their continuance in power; which is an absurdity."

The mayor, in his letter enclosing to the committee the letter of Mr. Carlisle, says : "The right of an American citizen to his vote is conferred upon him by the organic law which makes the will of the people supreme; and, as that will can only be expressed through the ballot-box, it would be absurd to say that ours is a government of the people if any power existed anywhere which could deprive the people of the right of expressing their will by their votes."

The letter of Mr. Carlisle proves conclusively that the ornoration had no right to make a law regulating the elections of the city, and we feel sure that the members who thrust this law upon our citizens will be relieved from the burden of legislating for the city. Let our friends, then, bear in mind that all persons who have resided within the limits of the city during the time prescribed by law, and who are twenty-one years of age, are entitled to vote, whether or not their names appear on the regis tration lists, and whether or not they have changed their

THE CIRCUIT COURT .- In this court yesterday morning the decision on the motion to dissolve the injunction as to Holford, in the case of Spain es. Hamilton, administrator, was delivered by Chief Justice Dunlop-the court overruling the motion. The next case taken up was that of Edward Lockett, James G. Berrett, and Henry D. Johnson vs. Hon. Wm. L. Marcy and John Pemberton, liquidators of the Merchants' Insurance Company of New Orleans, in chancery. During the progress of this case, Mr. Key, the United States district attorney, appeared in court, and, obtaining leave, stated that he had been notified that a writ of habeas corpus had been issued by this court in the case of Jonathan S. Jenkins, now in prison on a charge of piracy; that he knew nothing of the case officially; that the arrest had been made without any consultation with the proper officers of the United States government; and that, as United States district attorney, he had nothing to say on the subject. Mr. Bradley, the attorney of Mr. Van Camp, the prosecutor, replied that he considered Mr. Key the proper officer to take the prosecution in hand, but if he declined to do so, he considered it nevertheless the duty of the court to detain the prisoner on the affidavit until a proper judicial examination could be had; and so the matter was dropped until just before adjournment, when it was again called up by Mr. Manry; counsel for defendant, and a motion made by him to dismiss the prisoner on the strength of the disclaimer and non-appearance of the United States district attorney. Mr. Bradley again urged that it was the duty of the court to take judicial cognizance of the matter, and detain the prisoner for examin tion, on the strength of the affidavit of a respectable prosecuting witness, notwithstanding the executive government of the United States declined to become a party
